

Verse 1

I know you think you see it all so clearly
But continue to glance off the side of me
Your words seek to bring back the quiet
But the shadow of your absence disagrees

Chorus 1

And I realize that in your eyes we're finite
Destined on that course set for demise
But imprints caught reflecting turn on my sight

...immortalized...You're crystallized

Verse 2

Glazed by sounds of ghosts making up your past
Set the timer for what never seems to last
Centered, punctuated on the outcome
Composed surfaces impacted by the crash

Chorus 2

And I realize that in your eyes we're finite
Saturated by forbidden dreams
Just let your heart dissolve into a new guise

...catalyzed...You're crystallized.

Verse 3

Released energy, leaving you and me
Cause our elements are complementary
Separated, we'll come back more complete
Shaping temporary cools fueling our heat

Outtro

Like a delicate chemistry now fortified...We're crystallized
